

Realizing The American Dream

Buying vs. Renting

Trends in home prices, personal income and mortgage rates, combined with the tax advantages of home ownership, make this an excellent time to turn the home of your dreams into a reality. If you're thinking of buying a home, you've probably already asked yourself, "Can I afford to buy?" Another good question to ask is, "Can I afford to continue renting?" No matter what you're currently paying for rent, your total cash outlay over a period of several years will probably add up to a much higher total than you may have realized. The following chart shows how quickly the rent payments you're making add up figuring in what this money would earn invested at 5 percent interest.

Mortgage Rates

As a rule of thumb, a one point drop in mortgage rates means that half a million more families will qualify for affordable financing. Yours could be one of them!

Rates for conventional, 30-year fixed rate mortgages remain at historically low levels and increasingly popular alternate forms of financing may make your loan even more affordable. Your real estate agent or broker can provide information on the types of financing plans available to you.

Homeowner Tax Advantages

When you're figuring out how much you can afford to commit to monthly mortgage payments, don't forget the tax advantages of home ownership. Both property taxes and interest payments on a mortgage for an owner occupied home are currently tax-deductible. In the early years of a typical mortgage, all but a small percentage of each monthly payment is used to pay off the interest on the loan. This means that as a homeowner, your annual taxable income could be substantially reduced by deducting the payments you make on property taxes and yearly mortgage interest. Ask your CPA, attorney or tax preparer how buying a home now would affect your tax situation at the next filing deadline on April 15th.

Rent Per Month	Rent Payment 10 years	Rent Payment 20 years	Rent Payment 30 years
$400	$62,113.00	$164,413.00	$332,903.00
$500	$77,641.00	$205,517.00	$416,129.00
$600	$93,169.00	$246,620.00	$499,355.00
$700	$108,698.00	$287,724.00	$582,581.00
$800	$124,226.00	$328,827.00	$665,807.00

$1,200	$186,339.00	$493,240.00	$998,710.00
$1,500	$232,923.00	$616,551.00	$1,248,388.00
$2,000	$310,565.00	$822,067.00	$1,664,517.00
$2,500	$388,206.00	$1,027,584.00	$2,080,647.00

With the money you are currently spending on rent, you could be building equity in your own home. Keep in mind, too, that over the years your income most likely will increase faster than any increase in your mortgage payment. Rent payments, on the other hand, tend to increase – right along with your paycheck.

Home Value Appreciation

In addition to tax advantages, you can also benefit from any increase in the value of your home both through appreciation and improvements you add for your own comfort and enjoyment.
